Tutoring Experience

Over the past 12 years, I've had the opportunity to work with students from various international backgrounds, helping them navigate challenging curriculums in Psychology. My experience spans across IB, A-Level, and IGCSE, where I've guided students in preparing for their Internal Assessments, Extended Essays, and final exams. Many of my students have successfully entered top universities globally.

Additionally, I have supported students through AP Psychology, ensuring they are well-prepared for both coursework and exams. My role involves not only helping them understand key concepts but also offering guidance on research methods and critical thinking skills.

I also provide detailed study materials, including key readings, worksheets, and exam preparation tools, tailored to each student's needs. This has been instrumental in boosting both their confidence and academic success.
